To celebrate Earth Month, this article is the first in a series of six eco-friendly pieces that will run in BettyConfidential.

Sure, you recycle the newspaper and don't leave your computer running all night long, but you can go one step further in helping the environment by using eco-friendly skincare products that will beautify you naturally without hurting the planet. Going green never looked so good. Even celebs like Gisele Bundchen are getting into the act!

3. Anti- Aging Moisturizer

Aubrey Organics Honeysuckle CoQ10 Replenishing Moisturizing Lotion ($12.95, aubrey-organics.com). The lightweight lotion has CoQ10, which is a powerful anti-aging ingredient that fights free radicals and helps soften fine lines. This moisturizer also contains organic aloe vera and jojoba oil for smooth skin.
